

Upcoming Event

To Members and Friends of Clearwater Branch of American Association of University Women:

You are cordially invited to the 63rd Annual Meeting of the Clearwater Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The president of Florida AAUW, Carol Napper, our honored guest, will install the officers for the coming year. Also attending will be Frances Neu, Director of the St. Petersburg College Scholarship Foundation, who will receive our donation from our fundraising efforts this year. We would be pleased if you would join us on this special day as we celebrate your efforts from the past year and look forward to the coming year.

A scrumptious brunch will be served by the staff of the Belleair Country Club. You are invited to arrive at 9:30 a.m. for a social time. The Buffet will be served at 10:00. Guests will have a choice of breakfast delights such as homemade quiche and eggs benedict or luncheon faire such as beef bourguignon. Other items will include fresh fruits, a salmon tray, chicken crepes, and assorted desserts.

The cost is $21 per person and includes the meal, beverages, tax, tip, and valet parking.

Please RSVP to Barbara Perkins, 2655 Nebraska Avenue, Apt. 151, Palm Harbor, FL 34684 by April 27.

Women's History Remembered in March

We were pleased to have a full house the afternoon of our joint presentation of Women: Past, Present, and Future at St. Petersburg College, Clearwater campus. Besides faculty and students from SPC, we were honored to have the Mayor of Clearwater, George N. Cretekos, with us. In addition to Mayor Cretekos, other guests included Dr. Stan Vittetoe, Provost & V. Pres. of Workforce & Continuing Education, Tiffany Stallard representing St. Petersburg College Scholarship Foundation, and Woman on the Way Coordinator Shirley Crumbley were also present.

Three students, Alexandria Danokaras Biamonte portraying Alice Stokes Paul; Katherine Cervantes as Gloria Steinem; and Yvette Collins as Michelle Obama represented the school. From our Clearwater Branch were Dana Garlick as Susan B. Anthony, Jan Stephens as Billy Jean King, and Margaret Hyde as Sandra Day O'Connor

Remembering our past helps us appreciate what women have achieved. Thinking about our future tells we have much to do still. Your work with AAUW helps assure the future of women. We hope to see you all at our Annual Luncheon!
